

Transgender

A range of behaviors, expressions and identifications which challenge traditional notions of sex, gender and sexuality in a given culture. Trans people dis-identify, in varying level of degree, with the sex/gender assigned to them at birth. Transgender refers to people who feel that their initial sex/gender designation is a false or incomplete description of who they are. Transgender (or just trans) is an umbrella term which includes a vast array of differing identity categories such as transsexual, drag queen, drag king, cross-dresser, transgenderist, bi-gendered and a myriad of other identities.
