Get Started Using Restorative Inquiry

Restorative Justice is all about inquiry. Below are some of the questions that might trigger an effective conversation among students.

Whether social restoration or self-restoration is your goal, these questions will help you guide the conversation.

Social Restoration
- Tell me what happened. What was your part in what happened?
- What were you thinking at the time?
- How were you feeling at the time?
- Who else was affected by this?
- What have been your thoughts since?
- What are they now?
- How are you feeling now?
- What do you need to do to make things right? Repair the harm that was done? Get past this and move on?
- What can we do to support you?
- What might you do differently when this happens again?

Self-Restoration
- Tell me what’s been happening. What has not been working for you?
- What are you thinking about this situation?
- How are you feeling about this situation?
- How is this getting in the way of your learning? Feeling okay about school? Being the person you want to be at school?
- What do you need to learn/to do to make things better? Make things right? Reset and get back on track?
- What can we do to support you?
- What might you do differently the next time you find yourself in this situation?
