Voter Turnout

How engaged are voters in your state and community? Use data from your state’s website or the U.S. Census Bureau to find out. One place to begin is The United States Election Project, where you can find each state’s 2014 voter turnout results. Find the data for each item in your state and record them in the chart below.

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>State</th>
<th>Overall turnout</th>
<th>Women</th>
<th>Men</th>
<th>18–29 year olds</th>
<th>Over 30</th>
<th>American Indian</th>
<th>Asian</th>
<th>Black</th>
<th>Hispanic</th>
<th>White</th>
</tr>
</thead>
</table>

Write a short paragraph describing voter turnout in your state.

__________________________________________________________________________
__________________________________________________________________________
__________________________________________________________________________
__________________________________________________________________________
__________________________________________________________________________
__________________________________________________________________________